Language activities such as situational dialogues and role-playing will help your child learn how to interact in Chinese. Development of oracy skills will lay a strong foundation for character recognition and reading.

Reading & Writing

Upon building strong foundation in listening and speaking, your child will venture into reading and writing, starting with the recognition and writing of characters.

Hanyu Pinyin

Building on your child's oracy foundation, Hanyu Pinyin is introduced as a tool for learning Chinese. Your child will be able to use this tool as an aid in understanding and making connections between the sounds and meanings of Chinese characters.
